

DEDICATION

To the resilient people of Cephalonia

Το χάσμα π' άνοιξ' ο σεισμός ευθύς εγιόμισ' άνθη.

Διονύσιος Σολωμός, «Εις το θάνατο Κυρίας Αγγλίδας», Απ. 1, 150.3.1.

*Where the quake scarred the earth,
flowers will blossom in unison.*

Excerpts from the poem «On the death of Ms. English», 1, 150.3.1.
by Dionysios Solomos, national poet of Greece,
who was born and lived in the Ionian islands.

